Madame Yale's HAIR TONIC

Ladies and Gentlemen.—It has gone on record that Madame Yale's Excelsior Hair Tonic is the first and only remedy known to chemical science found to be a genuine hair specific. It has an affinity for the human hair for nourishing and invigorating its entire structure. It is antiseptic in character, as well as stimulating; its action upon the scalp and hair is truly wonderful, inasmuch as it has never been known in a single instance to fail to cure scalp diseases and to create a luxuriant growth of healthy, beautiful hair. It stops hair falling within twenty-four hours and brings back the natural color to gray hair in nearly every instance. It is not a dye; it is not sticky or greasy; on the contrary it makes the hair soft, youthful, beautiful and glossy; keeps it in curl. It is a perfect hair dressing, and can be used by ladies, gentlemen or children as a daily toilet requisite. Its influence is delightfully soothing.

All Dealers sell it, $1 per bottle. Mail order may be sent direct to the manufacturer, MADAME YALE, 189 Michigan Blvd., Chicago.

CHINESE ISSUE.

Envoys Tired Of Present Conditions

Will Present Terms To The Imperial Government.

These To Be The Basis For A Final Settlement.

LONDON, Nov. 13. 2.00 A. M.—Dr. Morrison, the Pekin correspondent of the Times, wires that, with a view to a speedy termination of the present unsatisfactory conditions in China, the foreign envoys have met and agreed upon the following terms, subject to approval of their respective powers to be presented to the Chinese government in a joint note and used as a basis for final negotiations: First, a monument to Baron von Ketteler (the German minister who was killed in Pekin) shall be erected on the spot where he met his death, by the Chinese government; a special prince shall carry to Germany a fitting apology for the murder of the baron; eleven Chinese officials implicated in the anti-foreign uprising shall be summarily punished; indemnities shall be paid to states, corporations and individuals; the Tientsin-Yamen shall be abolished and its functions entrusted to a foreign minister; there shall be natural intercourse with the emperor, as in all other foreign countries; the Taku forts and all other forts on the Gulf of Pechili shall be razed; the importation of arms and munitions of war shall be prohibited; permanent legation guards shall be maintained by the powers and also guards for the communications between Pekin and the sea; an imperial proclamation shall be posted for two years, suppressing the Boxers. Missionaries and Christians are not mentioned in the note. Those Chinese who suffered during the uprising through being employed by foreigners are included among those to whom indemnities shall be paid.

PROBABLY LOST.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 12.—Great anxiety is felt here concerning the safety of the barge Hudson and her crew of three men. It is believed that the captain's wife was also on board. The Hudson, with the barge Robert Carter, broke away from their tug off Montauk Point last Friday night, during the storm, and neither has been seen since they disappeared from view three hours afterward.

TO WINTER IN THE GULF.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Nov. 12.—It is announced that the North Atlantic squadron will winter in the Gulf waters. Pensacola has been designated as its coaling station. Large quantities of coal are being received at the navy yard here. The squadron is expected to arrive here next month. It will maneuver in Pensacola harbor.

COWBOYS COMPLAIN.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—One hundred and forty American cowboys who went to South Africa with the mule transport arrived in this city on Saturday. They are loud in their denunciation of their treatment on the return trip and have complained to the board of trade.

REMOVED FROM OFFICE.

Boston, Nov. 12.—Ransom F. McCullis, deputy collector of internal revenue, with headquarters in Methuen, has been removed from office. It is alleged that he is short in his accounts.

NO DECISION YET.

Boston, Nov. 12.—The boiler makers of the Boston and Albany railroad have been unable to reach a decision regarding the strike and the matter goes over until tomorrow.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Forecast for New England: Fair Tuesday, warmer, westerly winds; Wednesday, continued fair.

PLEASED WITH COURTESIES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Admiral Richards, commander of the French squadron in American waters, called at the navy department today, with his staff, and later visited President McKinley at the White house. Admiral Richards said that he was very much pleased with the courtesies that have been extended him during his visit on this side of the Atlantic. He will probably sail on Wednesday for Martinique.

VERY BRILLIANT WEDDING.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 12.—The most brilliant wedding that has ever taken place in this city occurred this afternoon, when Edwin Warren Guyol, editor of "La Lucerne," of Havana, Cuba, was married to Miss Julia N. Patterson, daughter of General and Mrs. Patterson of this city. Bishop Niles officiated, assisted by Rev. D. C. Roberts. Allen B. Patterson was best man and the maid of honor was Miss Persis Bouton of Chicago.

GREAT DEMAND FOR TICKETS.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 12.—The demand for tickets to the annual football game between Yale and Harvard, which is to take place here on Saturday, Nov. 24th, is very great, and much difficulty is being experienced in satisfying the applications. The grand stand will probably have to be enlarged to accommodate the immense crowd that will surely attend the contest.

OFF FOR MANILA.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 12.—Detachments of the Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Nineteenth and Twenty-first infantry and Fourth cavalry, numbering in all 817 men, left for Manila today, by way of New York. The troops will sail on the new transport Kilpatrick, which has just been rebuilt.

ANNUAL LYCEUM COURSE.

The second annual Lyceum lecture course given by the senior and junior guild of the Middle street Baptist church will open at Peirce hall on Thursday evening, December 6th.

The first two lectures will be illustrated and are to be given by Principal George W. Cross of the Robinson Female seminary of Exeter.

The topic of the first lecture will be "Splendors of the Alps"; the second lecture will be given on Thursday evening, December 13th, its subject being "Venice, City of the Sea."

These will be followed by a lecture by Rev. J. K. Wilson, D. D., of Portland, Me., entitled "Doing What You Can't."

Rev. Mr. Gile will also give two illustrated lectures during the course, the subjects of which will be: "An Evening in California," and the second to be on "The Columbia River and Cities of Puget Sound." A sixth lecture will probably be added to the course, the subject and speaker not yet having been decided upon.

HAULED HIM IN A SULKY.

Wesley S. Tucker hauled Fred Dame from Market square to the standpipe and back, in a sulk, on Monday evening, as his payment of an election bet. A life and drum corps led the way and a big crowd of men and boys went along to make the affair merry. Tucker did his unpleasant task in good time, stopping at the standpipe only about five minutes to get his breath. The egg gang at the Creek were well supplied with ammunition and unloaded most of it upon the principals in the affair. One of the men who was a particular target of the fusillade says the marksmanship of the gang was certainly all right. Mr. Tucker's wager was that Major Ueh would not receive a certain majority for senator.

BOWLING.

Five bowlers participated in a roll-off for a prize at the local alleys on Monday evening, Churchill coming out high man, although closely pressed by Buchanan. The score:

Churchill.....	78	103	101	285
Buchanan.....	86	108	89	283
Nickerson.....	91	82	77	250
Williams.....	83	74	82	239
Kirvan.....	73	70	86	229

The first game in the city league will be played this Tuesday evening, between the Rockinghams and the Electrics (formerly the Marines) Tomorrow evening, the Maplewoods will meet the Neptunes, a newly-organized team.

TWO MORE FOUND.

Victims Of Yarmouth Disaster Washed Up.

Capt. Harding's Body Has Not Yet Been Recovered.

Only Female Survivor Remembers Nothing After The Ship Sank.

HALIFAX, Nov. 12.—Two more bodies of victims of the disaster to the City of Monticello off this coast last Saturday were picked up today. They have been identified as those of Purser Hilton and Baggage-master Wilson. What was supposed to be the body of Captain Harding of the Monticello has proved to be that of First Officer Newell. Captain Harding's body has not yet been recovered. Kate Smith, stewardess of the steamer, in an interview today said that she remembers nothing that happened after the ship went down. She is the only woman passenger left alive.

VERY PRETTY EVENT.

The Colonial Tea and Chrysanthemum Exhibit.

The members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Middle street Baptist church evolved a very pretty social function with their colonial tea and chrysanthemum exhibit that was held in Peirce hall on Monday evening. The affair was a charming novelty that was fully appreciated by the large number of people who attended.

The display of chrysanthemums by itself was a rare treat, well worth the while of going to see; but besides this offering, there was a choice musical programme. All the arrangements had been attended to most thoroughly under the general supervision of the president of the Ladies' Aid society, Mrs. Charles P. Berry.

The chrysanthemums were from the rich stores of the conservatories at Hon. Frank Jones' Maplewood farm. The variety was marvelous, and the manner in which the flowers were shown up to the delighted eyes of those thronging about them was suggestive of great ingenuity in arrangement. The hall had never before been so beautifully transformed.

Attendees unquipped garbed in colonial costumes served the tea. Cocoa, frappe, cake and other delicacies were available. The musical numbers presented included the singing of ballads of the old days by Mrs. Thomas Thayer Brackett and Miss Dawdy, which proved extremely acceptable.

QUO VADIS.

The production which served to please a goodly sized audience at Music hall on Monday evening was Quo Vadis, a great story, strongly dramatized and capably presented. The cast included talent not unfamiliar to Portsmouth theatergoers. The work of the company was of an order entitling it to detailed commendation.

The leading role was assumed by Wilfred Lucas in an exceedingly able manner. Sincerity was evident in all that he did. The Nero of C. W. Chase reflected most creditably upon that gentleman. H. Mitchell made a good Petrovich. Miss Nina F. Fallon's portrayal of the repellent Poppea was intensely realistic, and Miss Louise Lucas, as Lygia, was very winning. The support of the rest of the players was satisfactory. The piece was well staged.

GONE TO HOT SPRINGS.

Frank Murphy, formerly porter at the Kearsarge house, who has for some time past been employed in the department of steam engineering at the navy yard, has left for Hot Springs, to seek a cure for acute rheumatism. Before his departure, his friends at the yard presented him a substantial sum of money, Albert Entwistle making the presentation.

HEARD AT RANDOM.

Prices For Birds Are Lower.
"The season of good prices for the pot hunters has passed," said a gunner on Monday. "When the shooting season opened, birds were hard to find and harder to kill, and pot hunters who brought their game to the markets could easily get eighty cents a pair for partridges and often more, as the supply was not nearly equal to the demand. Now hunting conditions have changed and the supply is getting ahead of the market. As the frosts and fall rains have cleared the leaves from the trees and bushes, the chances of the hunter are doubled in killing his game, and the cold weather and shortening of the feed have brought the partridges together where they can be more easily found. At present the gamester who gets more than fifty cents a pair for the birds is unusually lucky."

New Chrysanthemums.

"There are more new kinds of chrysanthemums now than ever," said a local florist. "And they have all sorts of names. There is the 'Henry Ward Beecher,' a mauve blossom with long petals; the 'Golden Wedding,' bright yellow in shade and shaggy in form; the 'Mrs. Jerome Jones,' a cream colored blossom of quite unusual tint; the 'Maudie Adams,' of medium size and bright yellow; the 'W. J. Bryan,' white and of double blossoms (it has already commenced to fade); the 'George W. Childs,' dark maroon, with gold stripes; the 'Rider Haggard,' whose petals are long and struggling, scantily distributed; the 'Vivian Morel,' large, pink and somewhat irregular in form; and the 'Modesto,' rather deep yellow in color and only moderately full in size. These are but a very few."

Retail Prices The Same.

"No, we haven't yet raised the prices of beef, pork and mutton," said a local marketman, on Monday. "We ought to, though, in order to meet the advance imposed upon us by the wholesalers and it is very likely that we shall do so soon. That is only the natural consequence of the action of the Chicago packers. It costs us something now to get our meat into Portsmouth and you can't expect us to sell to our customers for less than we can."

A Great Club Town.

"Not many cities of this size have as many clubs, with such large membership, as Portsmouth," said a man who is himself identified with three social organizations, holding office in one of them. "Count them up: Athletic, Warwick, Yacht, Warner, Piscataqua, Bicycle, Maplewood, Merrimack Social, Unity. There you have nine and I wouldn't wonder if there are two or three more that I've skipped. Those nine must have, all together, as many as five hundred members. Quite a town for clubs, eh?"

He Picks Yale To Win.

"I look for Yale to beat Harvard," observed a football crank, on Monday. "Why? Because Yale always lies low, with the usual bluff about being 'no good' and 'stale' and all that, and then hops up in the Harvard game with the same old Yale dash and strength. Then, too, I think Harvard has really slumped. That unexpected piece of good luck in the Pennsylvania game was too much for her. She isn't used to victories like that. Those Portsmouth fellows who are going to see the Yale-Harvard tussle I should advise to go to New Haven on the day before. If they wait and leave here on the morning of the very day when the game comes off, I'm afraid they'll find no tickets left."

"Just Horrid."

A young lady remarked recently: "I think it is just horrid in the newspapers to say such severe things about long skirts. Do they want us to go about dressed in bloomers all the time, summer and winter? But it only shows what poor taste you men have anyway," and then she gathered up from the sidewalk enough surplus skirt to clothe a whole family of India famine sufferers and swept on, microbes and all.

Still More Coming.

"I think the papers are in error in saying that the season of weddings is over," remarked a society woman, on Monday. "I myself know of five or six that are due to take place before January. Rarely has Portsmouth seen so many brilliant and interesting nuptials in a like space of time as have occurred here since last May. And the end is not yet, by any means."

A LIGHTED LAMP.

A stranger in this city, giving the name of John J. Smith, was arrested on Monday night, for being drunk. And thereby hangs, quite a tale.

As Officers Burns and Holbrook were coming up State street on their way to the police station, at lunch hour, they noticed in one of the upper rooms of Mrs. Mary E. Martin's boarding house at No. 39 what looked like fire running up the wall. It seems to be growing fiercer, as they watched it for a minute, and they hurried over and aroused Mr. Martin.

Investigation showed that Smith, above referred to, had placed a lighted lamp too near the wall in his room, which had taken fire. In a short while longer it would have been a hard matter to put out the blaze. Smith, who had been drinking quite heavily, was taken to the station.

Aside from the damage to the room, which is considerable, the lodger had a close shave from being burned to death, for he was in such a drowsy condition that he could scarcely have escaped without assistance and in a few minutes more the flames would probably have reached the bed.

NAVAL MATTERS.

Items of General Interest, Personal Mention and Various Notes.

The monitor Amphitrite will go to Port Royal this winter.

The monitor Albatross has been successfully launched at Newport News.

Jerry Lynch, the last surviving member of the crew of the old Alabama, is dead at Atlanta, Ga., at the age of 72. He left a large estate.

To guard against the effects of prolonged exposure in the Philippines, the navy department is sending out another draft of 600 men to relieve sailors on the ships now at Manila. These men leave on the Buffalo on the 1st proximo, meeting the Hartford and the Albatross at Trinidad and exchanging some of the landmen on those ships for the China service.

Secretary Long is back in Washington. In speaking about remaining in the cabinet, Secretary Long says with his usual modesty: "I have not had time as yet to think of the matter. We know it is a customary courtesy due the president for the members of the cabinet at the close of an administration to give him an opportunity to appoint an entirely new cabinet, if he so desires, and, as for me, he shall have that opportunity."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

To Recommend Continuance of Present Strength of Army.

CONSIDERATION OF THE TRUSTEES

Isthmian Canal Should Be Constructed. Route Not Designated, and American Shipping Should Be Aided—War Taxes Should Be Reduced.

Washington, Nov. 12.—President McKinley is today engaged in the preparation of his message to congress.

The president will tell congress that this government was confronted with a very serious problem in China, but that all danger of embarrassing complications has passed. Attention will be called to the fact that harmony has been maintained between the United States and the other powers in dealing with the problem and that there is every indication that the differences between China and the powers are in a fair way of satisfactory adjustment with honor to this country.

The president will call to the attention of congress many acts of bravery and gallantry displayed by sailors and soldiers incidental to the relief of the American legation at Peking, with recommendations of suitable reward.

Congress will be asked to provide an army equal to the present force so long as the Philippine war continues and to legislate for a material reduction so soon as the conflict is over.

The question of warship construction has not been fully determined upon by the navy department. The experts have prepared an elaborate program for the navy increase, but Secretary Long is expected to recommend to the president the building only of some gunboats, which recommendation the president will adopt in his message. An increase in the enlisted strength of the navy and marine corps will be recommended to meet the requirements of the ships now being built.

Cuba and Porto Rico.

References to Porto Rico and Cuba in the message will be largely of a historic nature. Congress will be advised of the establishment of civil government in the former island and of the election of a constitutional convention in the latter for the purpose of laying the groundwork for a scheme of government.

When the constitutional convention in Cuba shall have concluded its labors, a message will be sent to congress by the president dealing with that subject.

The president in his forthcoming message will recommend legislation for building up American shipping, but will not commit himself to a specific plan. He will point with pride to the condition of the treasury and will recommend that congress relieve the burden of war taxes as they may be found advisable to amend the existing laws.

On the subject of trusts the president will renew his recommendation to congress to give the subject careful consideration.

It is believed that the president will renew his recommendation for an isthmian waterway without committing himself to a particular route and will call attention to the need of cable communication between this government and its possessions in the Pacific.

The president will put before congress the modus vivendi with Great Britain as to the Alaska boundary and will intimate that this agreement should settle the contention for a number of years at least.

There will be the usual reference to the friendly relations existing between this government and the powers of the world and information relative to the status of claims by this government against foreign governments.

Died in Friday's Storm.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Henry Lamore, John Rogers and James White left Lyon Mountain on Friday morning to hunt deer on Ellenburg mountain. During the afternoon a severe snow and wind storm came on and they lost their bearings and wandered through the snow all Friday night. On Saturday morning Lamore, completely exhausted, lay down and became unconscious. His companions could not revive him, and he died in a short time of cold and exhaustion. The others left his body near Smith's brook and continued their wanderings until Saturday night, when they came into Sherlock's lumber camp and notified the workmen. One of them started on horseback for Lyon Mountain, but owing to the continued severity of the storm he could not reach that place and went to Dannemora, from which place searching parties went out and recovered the body of Lamore.

First Pension For War in China.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The first pension for the war in China has been granted to the widow of Captain H. J. Reilly of the Fifth artillery, who was killed in the attack on Peking on Aug. 15 last. This pension was put through in record breaking time and was granted under the Spanish war pension act. Mrs. Reilly has minor children. Approximately 35,000 claims for pensions have been filed under the Spanish war act to date, and of these 5,000 have been adjudicated and about 80 per cent of the latter number allowed. At an average of $12 a month each the pensions already granted on account of the Spanish war will cost the government more than $500,000 a year.

Sultan Joins Automobileists.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—The sultan is about to join the ranks of the automobileists. Shukr Tash, his aide-de-camp, accompanied Twifli Tash, the Turkish ambassador to Germany, and inspected the automobile exhibition here with the view of purchasing a machine for his majesty. Several vehicles met with their approval, so that there is every chance of an automobile shortly making its appearance at Yıldiziosk.

Solic Schoolgirls Poisoned.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 12.—Two hundred and fifty girls, pupils of the Smolny institute, a boarding school patronized exclusively by the nobility, were taken sick, with evident symptoms of poisoning, after dinner. It is said that two have died, but that the others have recovered. The poisoning is attributed to metallic cooking utensils.

Fire in Jersey City.

Jersey City, Nov. 12.—Eleven families in this city were driven from their homes at 146 and 148 Morris street yesterday. The flames started in a wooden barn, and between the four story frame tenement at 146 and 148 Morris street and crept up to the roof so quickly that the tenants had to flee for their lives.

NAVY SHORT HANDED.

Admiral Crowninshield's Plea For More Officers.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The startling statement is made in the report of Admiral Crowninshield, chief of the navigation bureau, that the present personnel of the navy would form barely one-fourth of the total establishment necessary to fight a first class European power. It barely sufficed for the Spanish-American war and no longer can be considered, the reports says, as an effective nucleus about which a larger establishment could be formed in case of war.

The admiral regards this need of the navy for officers and men as most urgent. He says that the bureau can point to many cases where the service is being hampered by lack of officers. The naval academy is suffering for want of instructors, and the present high standard of training cannot be maintained. Every bureau in the department is short of officers, and the service, the report predicts, soon will fall behind in the struggle for leadership and then for equality, with the other services. The disability of the seagoing corps of officers has greatly increased since the Spanish war, and many of the best officers are being lost as a result of breaking down from overwork.

The admiral severely criticizes the ineffective effort of congress at the last session to meet immediate needs for officers by authorizing the employment of retired officers, and he demands the immediate repeal of that act. He claims that the retired list, intended as a reward for faithful service, otherwise becomes a hardship and a punishment. He pointed out that there has been a steady increase in the number of officers on the retired list, and he says that the number of officers on the active list before its passage, as well as the number of officers on the retired list, is now 121 vacancies in the list of naval officers when vacancies can be least afforded.

Therefore it is recommended that for the next two years appointments to the naval academy be doubled to the president and representatives in congress appointing two instead of one wherever authorized now and in addition officers be given the same privilege of appointment as representatives.

Then, to meet future needs, it is recommended that wherever congress authorizes an increase of vessels to the navy it also provide in the same act for an increase of officers and men to man the ships.

It is declared that it is now impossible to man the vessels of our navy already constructed with the present force, not to mention those building or authorized. Congress is urged to make any increase in personnel immediately available.

General Baden-Powell Ill.

London, Nov. 12.—General Baden-Powell, according to the Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail, has contracted enteric fever, but his condition is not serious. A Pretoria dispatch says that the British have reoccupied Philippolis after four hours' fighting. General French will take command of the Johannesburg district. The condition of Miss Roberts, daughter of Lord Roberts, is more serious. At the trial in Hamburg to determine whether the South African gold recently confiscated by the Hamburg authorities to safeguard the interests of local insurance companies was owned by the shippers or by the Transvaal government a motion was made to call Mr. Kruger and Mr. P. W. Botha, state secretary of the late South African Republic, as witnesses. Decision was reserved.

In Another Coal Strike Pending?

Hazleton, Pa., Nov. 12.—When asked about the story published to the effect that there would probably be another strike at the collieries of the Lehigh Valley Coal company because of the alleged refusal to grant a reduction in the price of dynamite and that President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers and President Gumpers of the American Federation of Labor would meet today in Scranton to talk over the situation, Division Superintendent Zerby, who has charge of all the Lehigh Valley collieries in the Hazleton district, said: "I know nothing of any dissatisfaction, and the agreement entered into with our men is being carried out. I am not able, however, to speak for my superiors. I know of no difficulty."

MONTICELLO DISASTER.

Bodies of Twenty-five Victims Washed Ashore.

DEATH LIST IS NOW THIRTY-SIX

Some of the Corpses Identified—The Wreckage From Unfortunate Ship Straws the Coast For Many Miles. Surf Still Running Very High.

Yarmouth, N. S., Nov. 12.—The shore of this county for ten miles east and west is strewn with wreckage of the hull and cargo of the steamer City of Monticello, which foundered Saturday morning, and 25 bodies of victims of the disaster have been recovered from the sea, which is still running with terrific fury. The bodies were arranged in a room in the public hall, and Coroner Fuller, who held an inquest, gave an opinion of accidental drowning. All the bodies are terribly battered.

The first body was found at daylight, when the zinc lifeboat which was supported by the survivors of the first boat to have been swamped was discovered on the shore. The three plus were broken. A few yards distant were the bodies of Mr. Edwards, a passenger; Second Engineer Poole, Mr. Frapp, a traveling salesman for McGee's Sons of St. John, N. B., and the body of a seaman. All four had life belts around them. At short intervals along the beach 11 more bodies were found, making 15 discovered up to noon yesterday. They had all evidently come from the lifeboats and were killed on striking the beach, not one escaping. The remains so far identified in addition to the four enumerated above are: Rupert Oliver, purser of the steamer Prince Edward; Baggage Master Wilson and Dockhands Johnson, Levi Nickerson, Robert Nickerson, Van Rensselaer, Ashton Wickens, James Cole, John B. Whitman, Stacey King, Windsor Blinn, Harry Copeland and David Benham. The watches in the pockets of two of the men stopped at 12:45 and 1:25 o'clock respectively.

The body of Captain Harding of the Monticello has been found at Pointe Pointe enclaved with a life belt and fully dressed. The features are slightly bruised.

An unknown body, supposed to be that of a traveling salesman who was a seaman, was found on the beach at the same place with the bodies of Elsie McDonald and Second Officer Murphy, recovered Saturday. Of the members of the crew whose bodies were secured Copeland and Benham were not known to be on board until their bodies were identified. They were not on the ship's articles, having joined the trip only.

Bodies of Two Drummers Found.

One body was recognized last evening as John (Richard) Essex, N. B., a traveler for a boot and shoe firm. He was not before known to have been a passenger. This swells the known death toll to 32. Benham took the place of Whitmore, previously reported lost. Copeland was also a substitute, but for whom it is not known.

The body of O. N. Coleman, another seaman, was found on the beach at Monticello, his remains washed ashore and identified. He represented Levi Bros. & Co., Jewelers, Hamilton, Ont., and carried samples in trunks worth $82,000. One trunk has been found.

Some difficulty has been encountered in figuring the total loss of life, as a number of passengers joined the Monticello at St. John without first registering at the booking office. They bought tickets on board.

A revised list of the members of the crew prepared at the head office of the Yarmouth Steamship company here shows that the officers and crew numbered 28, of whom Third Officer Fleming, Wilson Cook, a deckhand, and Miss Smith, the doctor, were women.

The total number of people who were on board is now placed at 36.

The four survivors are Captain Smith, a passenger; Third Officer Fleming, Quartermaster Wilson and Stewardess Smith.

No Cabinet Changes Now.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Many predictions have been made about changes in the cabinet. The most promising one was about Secretary Gage's retirement in favor of Comptroller Charles G. Dawes, but that has been withheld by a positive declaration from Mr. Gage that he was going to remain until March 4 and did not know what he was going to do after that. The talk about the immediate dissolution of the cabinet is without foundation. The cabinet will stand by the president until his next inauguration. Those members who are anxious to get out will have their chance then. Business considerations may possibly influence the cabinet. The most likely change before March 4, but he has no present intention of doing so as far as can be learned, and he may decide to remain in the next cabinet.

Another Fire at Newport.

Newport, R. I., Nov. 12.—Another fire, believed to be of incendiary origin, broke out here last night. Flames were discovered in the west wing of the bathing pavilion of Bailey's Beach. The firemen soon had streams of water playing on the building, and chemicals were used to prevent the flames from reaching the east wing of the pavilion, which contains many luxuriously equipped bathhouses owned by the cottagers. The flames were finally got under control, the damage done amounting to about $1,200. Following so close on similar fires here recently, this last outbreak confirms the cottagers in their fears that an incendiary is at work in Newport.

Famine in China Threatened.

Peking, Nov. 12.—Oriental advisers received by steamer state that 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 Chinese north of Peking are in danger of starving, their millions of people of tribute rice were to be shipped from Shanghai and distributed among these hungry hordes from Tientsin and Peking, but the military officers at Shanghai gave orders that no rice should be sent out of central China. There is great danger that an immense swarm of robbers will be sent out of the famine district, as usually happens.

Eight Killed Near Paris.

Paris, Nov. 12.—Eight persons were killed and 15 wounded in a collision between a suburban train and an express at Chisley le Roi. The suburban train was entering the station to allow the express to pass, and the accident occurred there, the suburban train being telegraphed. The wreck was complete, and the line was blocked for hours.

WAYS OF FENCING.

Two Methods and Their Chief Points of Difference.

With the Italian method the fencer only looks to touch his adversary, and to that end all means are good. He runs, jumps and leaps upon his adversary like a tiger, he fences with his arms drawn back to his body—in fact, he fences no more, but uses his foil as he would a dagger. When he is on the defensive, he performs regular evolutions with his foil and uses it as he would a cane.

With the Italian method one must have a great quickness of legs, for if the fencer attacks you with a jump and does not touch you he will at once jump back to the end of the room to avoid your reposition. It is what I call "parry with your legs." Now, if you learn to use a foil, it is to parry with that foil, not to run away in order to give you a chance to leap again. It is all right to retreat, but not too much. I prefer to be touched rather than to run away from an attack. One stop back is quite sufficient.

In the French method the teacher's aim is to give his pupil all the elegance possible in such one of his movements. No jerky movements must be executed, for it is necessary that the pupil should have no stiffness in the shoulder, while he must imagine that he is holding in his fingers a pen, not a foil. This is especially true for the fencer, where the fencer plays the biggest part in fooling your adversary in the parade. The point of the foil must move and turn without the hand moving from its regular position. Of course it takes a great deal of practice. The teacher never allows a pupil to enter into a contest with anybody until he knows how to make a frank attack with the arm extended without jumping or to parry without running away. If he enters into a contest without these qualities, he will naturally become a fencer of the Italian style and find that his touches are not counted according to American rules.

When a pupil is entering an assault and is touched by his adversary, he must be able to tell what kind of an attack he has made or what attack his adversary has made on him. Then he becomes a good fencer, for he uses judgment. In the French method the contest is supposed to show elegance, quickness and good breeding between the two contestants, and not a regular rough and tumble struggle in the Italian method. —Minneapolis Times.

The Hawthorn.

The Hawthorn, the botanical name for the hawthorn, comes from a Greek word signifying "strength," from the well known hardness and tenacity of the wood. The common name comes from a Saxon expression signifying hedge thorn, from the frequency with which this plant was employed in hedges.

The present king of Italy is King Humbert, who ascended the throne Jan. 3, 1878. Victor Emmanuel, his father, ascended the throne of Sardinia in 1819 and became king of Italy March 7, 1851.

Station Agent Kills Burglar.

New London, Conn., Nov. 12.—An unknown man was shot and instantly killed while riding the motor car at Gales Ferry station of the Norwich and Worcester railroad, which is just across the river from here. The station master, George Brooks, had looked up the station for the night and was on his way home when he noticed the motor car about to start. He went into the house of an acquaintance to borrow a gun. After getting the gun he retraced his steps toward the railroad station in search of the animal and discovered that the station had been broken into during his absence. Entering, he found a man standing in front of the open motor car. The man refused to hold up his hands and, with a revolver in each hand, threatened, according to the station master's story, to shoot. The station agent then fired, the charge entering the breast of the burglar and causing instant death. A screwdriver, chisel, knife and a cheap gold filled watch were found in the man's pockets, but there was nothing to establish his identity.

Here Most In Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Here Most, with his ferocity subdued to gentleness, was the orator here last night of the thirteenth anniversary of the execution of Anarchists Parsons, Spies, Fischer and Engel. The meeting was held at the Central Music hall. The speaker was free of uniformed policemen, but two city detectives stood on the edge of the crowd in the lobby. A few years ago police interference with the speakers was of frequent occurrence at the annual celebration. Except for the notable increase in the number of attendants and the softening of the language used the meeting differed from the previous annual gatherings only in that Mr. Lester Parsons was conspicuous by her absence and that a big United States flag was displayed with the red flags used in the decoration of the stage.

Letter From Don Carlos.

Madrid, Nov. 12.—The Madrid papers publish a letter from Don Carlos addressed to the Carlist general Morúa in which the pretender protests against the present movement as "contrary to instructions" and characterizes the authors of the rising as "men without consciences." "I shall never abandon my rights," says Don Carlos, "but at the same time I do not wish to ruin Spain. I cannot forget the danger to the integrity of her territory from prolonged anarchy because it would excite the ambitions of the powers, which are attentively following events in Spain."

Disastrous Fire at Norfolk.

Norfolk, Nov. 12.—The car sheds and electric light plant of the Norfolk Railway and Light company in Hammersville, a suburb of Norfolk, have been burned. Fifty-two cars and the electrical machinery were consumed. The loss is estimated at $150,000, covered by insurance. The street car system is badly crippled. A fuse from a car in the barn is supposed to have started the fire.

American Ship Wrecked.

London, Nov. 12.—According to the Hongkong correspondent of The Daily Mail the American ship Benjamin Sewall, Captain M. Sewall, which arrived at Hongkong prior to Sept. 29, from Fremantle, which she left Aug. 9, was driven ashore by the typhoon Friday night.

Special to the Herald

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—Secretary Long has decided that the mammoth new equipment building which has been authorized by congress at the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard shall be located on Seavey's Island. This settles a fight which has been on between the various bureau chiefs for the past two months.

It is the intention of the navy department to make Seavey's Island a new work of ship building shops.

survived by two sons and a daughter.
The funeral will be held at the home on Wednesday afternoon and the body will be sent to Rollinsford for interment in the family cemetery there.

HOW ARE YOUR NERVES?

If they are weak and you feel nervous and easily "flustered," can't sleep and rise in the morning unrefreshed, your blood is poor. Strong nerves depend upon rich nourishing blood. Hood's sarsaparilla makes the nerves strong by enriching and vitalizing the blood. It gives sweet, refreshing sleep and completely cures nervous troubles. Begin taking it today.

WAS VERY PRETTY.

Nuptials of Joseph Lamb of Portsmouth and Miss Malo.

St. Martin's church in Somersworth was the scene of a very pleasant and fashionable wedding Monday morning,
the contracting parties being Miss Minnie Malo of that city and Joseph Lamb of Portsmouth, says the Somersworth correspondent of the Manchester Union. The marriage ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock, the church being crowded with the families and friends of the bridal couple. The main altar was ablaze with light for the occasion, and at 9 o'clock the bridal party arrived at the church and came down the main aisle, the organist playing a wedding march. The Rev. Cleophas Demore, pastor of the church performed the wedding ceremony, and at its conclusion a nuptial mass was celebrated, the entire audience remaining to its close. The best man was William Lamb, brother of the groom and Miss Lydia Malo, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride was tastefully gowned for the occasion.

At the conclusion of the nuptial mass
the bridal party was driven to the residence of the bride's parents on Main street where a wedding breakfast was served and the happy couple received the congratulations of their many friends. They were the recipients of many beautiful presents. The groom conducts a large restaurant in Portsmouth and is well and favorably known throughout the state. His parents reside in Somersworth. For many years he was engaged in the barber business, having shops in Rochester and Dover.
Recently he engaged in the restaurant business and has been successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamb left on a honey moon trip, during which they will visit
New York, Philadelphia and Washington.
